

This month, we would like to showcase our client Q32 Bio, a privately held biotechnology company targeting to balance immune system in patients with severe inflammatory and autoimmune diseases.

With our unique background in both science and marketing, we designed an investor presentation and mechanism of action (MOA) illustrations for Q32 Bios' two lead programs.

"We had a good Jefferies conference last week; deck looked great and feedback was positive. Thanks for your heroic efforts to make that possible." Mike Broxson, CEO
